

A2. TAX EXPENDITURE AND CONCESSIONAL CHARGES STATEMENT

The Tax Expenditure and Concessional Charges Statement provides estimates of revenue forgone from tax expenditure and concessional charges.

A tax expenditure refers to favourable tax treatment granted to certain individuals, groups, or organisations to support policy objectives. This may take the form of specific tax exemptions, allowances and deductions, reduced tax rates, deferral of tax liabilities or tax credits. The revenue forgone is estimated by measuring the additional tax that would have been payable if ‘benchmark’ (or standard) tax structures had been applied to all taxpayers, and economic behaviour had remained unchanged.

A concessional charge refers to lower fees or service charges provided to certain users for goods and services provided by government agencies to achieve economic or social policy goals such as reducing the cost of living. The provision of these concessions may be supported directly from the Budget or indirectly through a reduction in agency obligations to make dividends or other payments, or a reduction in agency retained earnings. These concessions have a budget cost, regardless of whether they are the subject of a specific intra-government transfer. The revenue forgone is estimated with reference to the fee or charge that is payable by the wider community.

Judgement is required in delineating the ‘concessional’ and ‘structural’ features of a particular tax or service delivery scheme. The approach adopted is to treat the general application of a tiered tax schedule or charging regime as a structural element of the benchmark, rather than a concession to those paying less than the highest marginal rate of tax. For example, providing lower public transport fares for all children is included in the benchmark rather than as a concession. However, subsidised travel for eligible school children and senior citizens is treated as a concession. Provisions to prevent double taxation or to otherwise support the conceptual structure of a tax, rather than provide a benefit to a particular group of taxpayers, are generally excluded.

Caution should be exercised when using these estimates. They may not be comparable to estimates in other jurisdictions, which may use different definitions of the ‘structural’ and ‘concessional’ elements of taxes and charges. Similarly, changes to the benchmark definition and the classification of concessions may limit the comparability of some estimates to those in earlier budgets. Importantly, the estimates do not represent the additional revenues that could be expected if the concessional treatment was abolished, nor do they provide a reliable indication of the economic costs and benefits. This is because the concessions themselves influence behaviour patterns and levels of activity, which could be different in their absence.

This Appendix is structured as follows:

- Section A2.1 provides an overview of total tax expenditures and concessions for 2024-25
- Section A2.2 provides tax expenditure estimates, including a breakdown by taxation line
- Section A2.3 provides a distributional analysis of certain tax expenditures
- Section A2.4 provides estimates of concessional charges, including a breakdown by policy function line.

Where possible, an estimate of the costs associated with each of the major items is provided to assist comparison with the budgetary cost of direct outlays. Tax expenditure measures and concessions that have an impact over $1 million are itemised in a table. Those with an impact of less than $1 million are then summarised.

A2.1 Overview

In 2024-25, total tax expenditures and concessions provided by the NSW Government are estimated at $13.9 billion, equivalent to 11.7 per cent of total NSW revenue.

This comprises:

- $11.2 billion in tax expenditures and
- $2.7 billion in concessional charges.

A2.2 Tax expenditures

Overview of tax expenditures

Table A2.1 provides a summary of the total estimated value of major tax expenditures (those valued at $1 million or greater) for each of the main tax revenue sources. The estimates are for the financial years 2022-23, 2023-24 and 2024-25. The total value of major quantifiable tax expenditures is an estimated $11.2 billion or 23.1 per cent of taxation revenue in 2024-25.

Policy changes relating to tax expenditures

The 2024-25 Budget includes the below policy measure for a new tax expenditure.

- Bulk-Billing Support Initiative. The Government will exempt past, unpaid payroll tax liabilities for payments made to general practitioner (GP) contractors up to 4 September 2024. From 4 September 2024, GP clinics centres that meet requisite bulk-billing thresholds will be eligible for a payroll tax rebate associated with payments to contractor GPs.

Table A2.3 sets out the top 10 tax expenditures by recipient category, based on the estimated sum of tax expenditures for the financial years 2022-23, 2023-24, and 2024-25. The table also indicates the tax expenditures for which distributional analysis is presented in Section A2.3 Distributional analysis of tax expenditures.

Transfer duty (including landholder duty)

The benchmark tax base includes all transfers of dutiable property as defined in Chapter 2 of the Duties Act 1997, including New South Wales land, land use entitlements, transferable floor space, and partnership interests. Indirect acquisition of land under Chapter 4 of the Duties Act 1997 (landholder duty) is also included.

The benchmark tax structure comprises a tiered rate scale with marginal tax rates varying from 1.25 to 5.5 per cent over six steps. A premium marginal rate of 7 per cent applies for residential property valued above $3.5 million.

Under the benchmark tax base, fixed or nominal duties are imposed on various transactions, including duplicates of instruments and certain transfers eligible for concessional duty rates (such as transfers related to trusts, superannuation, and deceased estates). Effective from 1 February 2024, the fixed duty charges of $10 increased to $20, charges of $50 increased to $100 (excluding those associated with Managed Investment Schemes, which have risen to $500), and charges of $500 increased to $750.

Surcharge purchaser duty applies to purchases of residential land by foreign persons at a rate of 8 per cent. From 1 January 2025, the surcharge purchaser duty rate will increase to 9 per cent.

The Duties Act 1997 includes a number of exemptions designed to exclude the application of duty (apart from a nominal charge) to transactions where duty has already been applied to an associated legal instrument. Exemptions that fall under this category are not included as a tax expenditure, as exemptions of this nature are designed to avoid the double taxation that could occur if the exemption were not provided.

<sup>1</sup> Items listed under the 'other major tax expenditures' headings are those where the value of the tax expenditure is estimated to be more than $1 million in at least one year, but there is insufficient data available on which to base a reliable estimate.

- buy-back arrangements of widely held unit trust schemes for the purpose of re-issuing or reoffering the units for sale, subject to certain criteria
- amalgamations of certain Western Lands leases under the Western Lands Act 1901 where transfer duty has been paid on the transfer of other such leases in the previous three years.

The following are exempt from surcharge purchaser duty:

- holders of subclass 410 (retirement) and 405 (investor retirement) visas from 1 July 2019
- Australian-based developers subject to satisfying requirements relating to the construction and sale of new homes on the acquired land
- developers of Build to Rent properties subject to satisfying requirements relating to the construction of such properties, from 1 July 2020.

For temporary or term life insurance policies, life insurance riders, and trauma or disability insurance policies, the benchmark tax base is the first year's premium on the policies and the benchmark rate is five per cent. For group term insurance policies, duty of 5 per cent of the premium payable in any succeeding year in respect of any additional life covered by the policy is also charged.

The benchmark tax base for all other life insurance policies is the total sum insured. The benchmark tax rate is $1 on the first $2,000 and 20 cents for every additional $200 or part thereof.

Land tax

The benchmark tax base is the average of the last three years unimproved land value of all land owned, on 31 December of the previous year, that is above the indexed threshold for that year (as defined in the Land Tax Management Act 1956). This excludes land used:

- for owner-occupied residences
- by the Australian Government
- by the NSW Government.

The benchmark tax rate for the 2024 land tax year is $100 plus 1.6 per cent of the land value between the thresholds of $1,075,000 and $6,571,000, and $88,036 plus 2 per cent of land value thereafter. From the 2025 land tax year, the land tax thresholds will be permanently frozen at the 2024 amounts.

Surcharge land tax applies to residential land owned by foreign persons at the rate of 4 per cent per year. From the 2025 land tax year surcharge land tax will increase to 5 per cent per year. The benchmark tax base for surcharge land tax excludes certain commercial residential property.

Gambling and betting taxes

The benchmark for gaming machines in hotels and registered clubs is the rates of taxation applying to hotels, which vary based on a progressive rate scale depending on the level of annual profits from gaming machines.

(a) In previous years, the tax expenditure from concessional rates for registered clubs and the ClubGRANTS tax rebate available to eligible clubs was combined in the major tax expenditures. This year, the ClubGRANTS tax rebate has been excluded from the benchmark for the club tax concessions and added as a separate tax expenditure.

Gambling and betting taxes – other tax expenditures<sup>2</sup>

A full tax rebate is provided to racing clubs operating non-TAB Ltd pools.

Parking space levy

The benchmark tax base is the number of off-street parking spaces in Category 1 areas (City of Sydney, North Sydney, and Milsons Point business districts) or Category 2 areas (Chatswood, Parramatta, St Leonards, and Bondi Junction business districts).

The benchmark levy is indexed annually to movements in the Sydney CPI, over the year to the previous March quarter. For 2023-24, the benchmark levy is $2,800 per space in Category 1 areas and $1,000 per space in Category 2 areas.

<sup>2</sup> Items listed under the 'other tax expenditures' heading are those where there is insufficient data available on which to base a reliable estimate.

A2.3 Distributional analysis of tax expenditures

This section provides information on the types of recipients or transactions that benefit from large tax expenditures, to provide an indication of how the benefits of these tax expenditures are distributed. The analysis presented in this section is intended to enhance the transparency with regards to the distribution of tax expenditures across different recipient groups.

The scope of distributional analysis is limited by the availability of data. The NSW Government generally does not collect information on the individuals that benefit from tax expenditures, and therefore is unable to undertake distributional analysis according to income levels and other factors such as gender, age and occupation.

Distributional analysis is presented for the following three tax expenditures (where there is sufficient data to provide meaningful analysis):

- land tax exemption for land used for primary production
- concessional tax rates for gaming machines installed in clubs
- the First Home Buyers Assistance Scheme.

Land tax exemption for land used for primary production

Under Section 10AA of Land Tax Management Act 1956 (the Act), primary production land is generally exempt from land tax. Section 10AA(1) specifies that rural land used for primary production is exempt from land tax. Under Section 10AA(2), non-rural land used for primary production is also exempt if it is used for significant commercial purposes and aims to make a profit on a continuous basis.

For the 2024 land tax year,<sup>3</sup> more than 138,100 exemptions were claimed under the Act. Roughly 80 per cent of these exemptions were granted to rural land under section 10AA(1). The remaining 20 per cent of exemptions were claimed for non-rural land under section 10AA(2). Chart A2.1 below shows the distribution of the tax exemption by rural and non-rural primary production land.

<sup>3</sup> Land tax is levied on the owners of land in New South Wales as at 31 December of each year. For land tax year 2024, the assessment of land tax liability is based on land holdings as of 31 December 2023.

Chart A2.1: Total number of primary production land tax exemption by exemption type, 2024

Tax concessions for gaming machines located in registered clubs

Registered clubs in New South Wales pay concessional rates of tax on their gaming machine profits compared to the tax rates levied on hotel gaming machine profits. Tax rates for clubs and hotels are based on a progressive scale depending on the level of annual profits from gaming machines.

Chart A2.2 shows the proportion of the total value of the tax concession provided to clubs by annual gaming machine profit bands (left axis) and the proportion of clubs within each of the annual gaming machine profit bands (right axis) for 2022-23 (the chart does not include the ClubGRANTS tax rebate). It shows that five per cent of clubs (not including clubs with nil or negative gaming machine profits) receive about half of the total concession provided to clubs of around $485.3 million. Clubs with gaming profits less than $200,000 do not receive any concession as both clubs and hotels do not pay tax on gaming machine profits below $200,000.

First Home Buyers Assistance Scheme

Under the First Home Buyers Assistance Scheme (FHBAS) in 2022-23, eligible first home buyers were provided a full exemption from transfer duty when purchasing a new or existing home valued up to $650,000, and a concessional rate of transfer duty when purchasing a home valued between $650,000 and $800,000. For vacant land intended to build a home, first home buyers received an exemption for land valued up to $350,000, and a concessional rate applied to land valued between $350,000 and $450,000.

In 2022-23, more than 23,500 first home transactions in New South Wales received transfer duty exemptions and concessions, amounting to around $390 million, with an average value of around $16,600.

Chart A2.3 shows the distribution of the tax exemptions and concessions under the FHBAS between metropolitan Sydney and the rest of New South Wales. Of the total exemptions and concessions under the FHBAS, first home buyer purchases in metropolitan Sydney received 59 per cent (totalling $244 million) and those in the rest of New South Wales received 41 per cent (totalling $146 million).

Chart A2.3: Distribution of First Home Buyers Assistance Scheme exemptions and concessions in metropolitan Sydney and the rest of New South Wales, 2022-23

Note: Categorisation by geographical area is based on Local Government Areas (LGAs) based on classifications of the NSW Office of Local Government. Metropolitan Sydney includes LGAs classified as 'Metropolitan' and 'Metropolitan Fringe', which includes Blue Mountains and Central Coast.

Chart A2.4 below shows the distribution of the tax exemptions and concessions across property prices by $50,000 bands. First home buyer purchases valued between $600,000 and $650,000 received the greatest share of transfer duty exemptions and concessions by $50,000 bands in 2022-23, where approximately 3,500 first home buyer transactions obtained exemptions with a total value of $80.7 million.

The second largest band was first home buyer purchases valued between $650,000 and $700,000 where approximately 3,500 first home buyers received a total of $74.4 million in concessions.

Chart A2.4: Total value of exemptions and concessions for first home buyer purchases across different price brackets in New South Wales, 2022-23

Note: The above chart is for 2022-23, as it is the last financial year for which a full year of actuals data is available. From 1 July 2023, the transfer duty exemption threshold increased from $650,000 to $800,000 and the concessional transfer duty threshold increased from $800,000 to $1 million.
